

Schools to unload surplus on eBay, gain needed cash
September 30, 2004

"Shoppers on eBay can find almost anything, including a piece of a school district. For one week, beginning at 7 p.m. today, the San Ramon Valley school district will use the San Jose-based online auction giant to sell surplus items to the highest bidder. ...The sale is being aided by San Francisco-based InterSchola, which partners with schools..."